

JOURNALISM LEADERS FORUM

<http://journalismleadersforum.blogspot.com>

The Journalism Leaders Programme team at the University of Central Lancashire in Preston take pleasure in inviting you to the 6th Journalism Leaders Forum
networking reception and panel discussion on the theme

“Editor as Entrepreneur: Lessons from the Digital Front”

5.15pm for 6.00pm on Tuesday, May 15th, Greenbank Lecture Theatre, Lancashire Business School, University of Central Lancashire, Preston Campus

THE PANELISTS

Eamonn Carey is the co-founder and director of the Dublin-based Random Thoughts Media which specialises in mobile and broadband content. The company currently produces a twice weekly football show for Ireland 3, Ireland's first made-for-mobile video series.

Robin Hamman is co-ordinator of the BBC Blogs Network and behind the much-discussed BBC Manchester Blog project. His own blog, cybersoc.com, was recently named amongst the “most influential voices” in the UK media industry by the Press Gazette.

Nick Jaspan is a serial entrepreneur who co-founded and sold Newsco Publications, opened and closed the North West Enquirer and in April launched the regional media news portal, How-Do. He is non-executive director of j4b (Just for Business), an information publishing, technology and business services company based in Wilmslow, Cheshire.

Chair – Bob Eggington is a journalist-turned-tech-whizz whose many new media projects have included establishing BBC News Online. Eggington is an associate staff member of the Journalism Leaders Programme

THE  JOURNALISM
LEADERS PROGRAMME

uclan

RSVP to leaders@ukjournalism.org or +(0)1772 894730 Additional details and directions on the Journalism Leaders Forum Blog: <http://journalismleadersforum.blogspot.com>